TEACHING OF ELEMENTS OF PROGRAMMING IN HIGH SCHOOLS

Summary
This article presents a new approach to teaching programming languages in polish schools. It describes a method which main aspect is in showing differences between some language syntaxes. It isn’t possible to explain all the nuances of programming techniques but the most common can be presented at school level.